Barn Dance Last Week-end Huge Success

Shoreham Farmers Attend and Bring Corn With Them for Party

When a bunch of farmers take over a town almost anything is bound to happen and it sure happened at the barn dance held at the Shoreham Country Club last Saturday night. In other words the farmers in these here parts went to town. They all came in from the surrounding countryside, some on foot and some in those new fangled gas buggies which are a far cry from the good old days when the farmers used to roll into town for such parties behind good old model "T".

The party was arranged by the chairman of the entertainment committee, Mrs. Alfred Varian, and the club had been decorated under her direction with cornstalks to give the atmosphere of a barn.

The party was officially opened by Shoreham's oldest and most typical farmer, Mr. Randall Warden. He was not oldest in years but he is considered the oldest resident of Shoreham having been raised from a boy in these parts. And while he is not a real farmer, unless one considers the flower garden on his property as his costume was that of a typical farmer. Mr. Warden started the proceedings by leading a Paul Jones which was peppy and full of life and got the party off to a flying start.

A grand march followed and the judges chose the winners of the contest for the funniest and most original costumes. For the most original costume the prize was taken by Miss Cornelia-Jane Van Arnham, who was dressed as an entire corn field. Also dressed in the same manner was Miss Van Arnham's guest, Miss Corinne Veale, but at the time of the grand march the latter's headdress had fallen off and her costume did not appear as complete as Miss Van Arnham's. The prize for the funniest costume went to Mr. Frederick Zenke, who might be considered the only true farmer in Shoreham, if you consider his vegetable garden which caused so much interest in Shoreham last season. Mr. Zenke represented the "farmer of tomorrow," carrying an eggplant and an ear of corn to represent the Trylon and

CHILDREN TO HAVE PARTY AFTER PROGRAM

Following the children's dance program at the Country Club next Friday all the children have been invited to a very special party at the home of Mrs. Jack Brandon. Mrs. Brandon and her son, Jimmy, will be the hostess and host to the children in the program and their young guests. Mrs. Brandon hinted that there may be a very special surprise in store for the young dancing stars at this party, but she has sworn all who know it to secrecy and the children will just have to wait to see what it is.

Annual Buffet Supper To Be Held Tomorrow Night At Country Club

Children's Program is Planned for Next Week Led by Miss Jantzer

As a feature of the entertainment committee of the Shoreham Country Club the children of Shoreham will present a program of dancing at the clubhouse next Friday evening, September 1st, at 8:30 o'clock. There will be no admission charge and every Shorehamite is invited to attend this program.

The program is being arranged by Miss Evelyn Jantzer, who has been holding dancing classes at Shoreham for the past season and these children participating in the program range in ages from 3 to 16, representing all of the dancing classes. For the past few weeks Miss Jantzer has been holding special rehearsals for the children and has taught many of them special numbers for the occasion.

The program will be a cavalcade of ballroom dancing beginning with the Colonial period when the minuet was the proper dance of the day and hoopskirts and powdered wigs were the vogue, and will trace the evolution of dances to the present day's conventional fox trot, a rumba and waltz, as they have been seen on American dance floors before the days of jitterbugs.

During an interlude between the past and the present several numbers will be presented, one of which

NEW INDUSTRY AT OLD TESLA SITE

The Posi-Print Corporation, manufacturers of photographic paper, announce the opening of a plant located in Shoreham, on the site of the former Tesla experimental station, famous for the tall tower which used to stand near it and was blown up during the World War.

Extensive alterations, including installation of a second story and building an addition to accommodate a coating alley have been made over a period of six months. Processing machinery embodying the latest principles have been passed for operation. The factory has further been equipped with an air conditioning plant which will greatly facilitate the manufacture of photographic materials.

The plant is presently operating with a skeleton staff to regular production. After this trial period, some 25 persons will be employed with a payroll approximating $50,000 per annum.

Multi-shift operation is anticipated during the coming year which should furnish additional employment. We have been requested, however, to advise applicants for positions to telephone or write for appointments. No additions to the present staff are anticipated during the next few weeks.

Editor's note—Work has been going on at the Tesla Laboratory all summer but this is the first we have been able to print about it.

SUCH IS LIFE

While Mr. Frank Heiss began his vacation with a very lucky night at the garden club bridge by winning three prizes, he did not end it with the same good fortune. He suffered a black eye and a sprained ankle while playing tennis and was called to St. Louis on important business this week-end and cannot even be in Shoreham, nor finish his vacation.

"Nite Club Night" Planned for Next Week-end's Big Event

Plans for the annual "Nite Club Night" are forging ahead at a rapid pace. The last gala evening will take place a week from this Saturday night and will as usual be the crowning event of the season. Mrs. Alfred Varian, the chairman of the Shoreham Country Club Entertainment Committee, is in charge of the program and decorations. The club will be decorated as usual following some theme, which as yet has not been chosen. One idea for decor has been thought of was that of a roof garden but there will be further developments on this next week.

On the program will be Mrs. Weston, who sang at Sherman's last week-end and who is a member of the Chicago Opera Company. Mrs. D. D. Streeter, who is known to all Shorehamites, will play and Mr. Sawyer and Miss Jantzer will dance. It was Mr. Sawyer and Miss Jantzer who entertained at Shoreham last year by dancing a rumba and a waltz—and later taught the Lambert Walk. Miss Gladys Koch will also do a tap dance routine. Mr. Sheldon DuCret will tell some of his stories to add to the fun of the evening; quoting Mrs. Varian: "They will be nice stories; I will see to that."

AFTER 30 YEARS

At a Shoreham luncheon this past week Mrs. A. G. Hoyt and Mrs. Charles Hopkins, guests of Mrs. Arthur Sackett, were seated across from each other. As usual when women get together they got into conversation on the weather and themselves. Either Mrs. Hoyt or Mrs. Hopkins mentioned that she had lived in Chicago when she was a girl to which the other said that she had lived there as a girl also. They then found that they had lived in the same section of town and gone to the same school.

Mrs. Hoyt asked Mrs. Hopkins what her name had been before she was married to which Mrs. Hopkins answered "Kemp".

"You did not happen to know Hazel Kemp?" asked Mrs. Hoyt.

"I am Hazel Kemp," answered Mrs. Hopkins, "and by the way, did you know Alice Graves?"

"Oh! I am Alice Graves," answered Mrs. Hoyt.

Shorehamites to Attend 3rd Such Party at 8:00 p.m.

Teddy's Hotel Will do The Catering for Over 100 Persons Expected

The buffet supper to be held at the Shoreham Country Club this Saturday night, will be the third annual buffet supper held at the Shoreham Country Club. Before the buffet supper reached its present state and type of party, the club sponsored similar dinners and several clanbakes, but most of these were held before the club was remodeled, in the days when it was only a log cabin and a dance hall. The first buffet supper as it is known today, was held on the 28th of August, 1937, when Mrs. William Van Arnham was chairman of the house committee. This first supper which was run more as an experiment was attended by over 90 Shorehamites and their guests, and was a great success.

This year the party was moved up a week so that it coincided with the 25th anniversary of the Village of Shoreham and served as a celebration of that event. This party, like the one the year before, was catered by the Dove and Turtle Inn, and was attended by nearly 125 persons.

This year the buffet supper resumes what will probably become its traditional date on the Shoreham calendar, the next to the last week-end of the season, the week before "Nite Club Night". The buffet supper this year will begin promptly at 8:00 o'clock in the evening, and it might be well to remember the predicament which several Shorehamites found themselves in last year, when they arrived late for the party and found that the choice selections of food were gone.

Reservations have been pouring into the office of Dr. Wesley J. Sherman all week and at press time this morning there were 100 reservations for the supper. However, as the limit this year was set at a higher figure than in past years those who wish to make reservations or who wish additional tickets will probably be able to get them through Mr. Sherman tomorrow morning at the same price of $1.50 per cover.

This year, because the Dove and Turtle is not running this summer, the dinner will be catered by Teddy's Hotel in Port Jefferson. Teddy has aided Mrs. Frederick A. Koch, the chairman of the Country Club's house committee, who is in charge of the supper, in arranging a fine menu for this occasion. Teddy, by the way, has just redecorated his hotel in Port Jefferson, adding a large new dining room and a fine new entrance, where he

This last week in Shoreham is becoming more and more the children's week for it seems that during the week before Labor Day that they have their final fling just before their parents have theirs. This is the height of their social season here at Shoreham and they are certainly having a lot of fun with it. If any one wants to know what they do during this week they have just to look at the many stories in the Sounder this week about children and their doings. In fact, the editor estimates that the word "children" will appear about 30 or 40 times before this paper goes to bed and several synonyms used to break the monotony have already been overworked until we get to the point where we call them "The Kids".

At Shoreham a great deal is done for our future Presidents from the opening guns of the Fourth of July to the closing of the last curtain of the Shoreham season. On the Fourth of July we let them blow us out of bed at the crack of dawn and don't even say "naughty, naughty" to them. The big Fourth of July parade is their chance to strut their stuff and to show up those sissies who ride along behind in cars. In the afternoon of the Fourth the races are held for their pictures would be to find some way of getting for better pictures. For this purpose admission should be charged for the show or in some way the club's budget should be arranged to take care of it. Mr. Hallett has some very good reasons for thinking that there should be no charges for things of this sort at the club and the club budget will not be able to stand it unless there are more members next year. This whole question is a riddle which seems to be thus far unanswered and the entire question boils down to this: Are movies wanted in Shoreham another year, and if so how should they be financed. If there are any comments on this we would like to hear about it in writing and if one of the letters contains the answer we will publish it next week.

During the year many things are done for them here. The rafts on the beach are for them to use and there is a funny story that goes with this—there was a day, when rafts were first in the Shoreham waters, that the big raft was for the older people who wanted to dive and the little raft was close to the shore for the children, and even was known as the children's raft. But now the children use the big raft and if they can't swim to it, they go by boat while the so-called adults have a hard time getting to the little raft where they sit and sun themselves. Also the village maintains a lifeguard on the beach so that it is safe for them to swim there.

This last year movies were tried at the club for the children to attend, and let us dwell on this subject for a while. Most of the older people who saw these shows left, in spite of the fact that the children seemed to enjoy them, just because they were movies, that the pictures shown were not too good. This year the shows were more or less an experiment and were run for the children. These shows were put on with the idea of satisfying the children's desire for movies so that their mothers would not have to take them out of town for the programs. It does seem that in the future there might be a place in Shoreham for better programs along this line and that the shows might be something that the older people will enjoy as well as the children. However, it seems foolish to have any more pictures unless they are of a better type than the ones shown this year. Also it is not worth while unless the majority of Shoreham thinks that there is a place for such programs in Shoreham. The only way to get better

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sackett will accompany them and remain there for a few days. Louise Sackett and Prudy Hopkins will leave for St. Augustine, Fla., on Monday.

Mrs. Carl Schultze and her niece, Mrs. W.D. Van Arnham, gave a luncheon last Wednesday at the Three Village Tea Room in Stony Brook. The luncheon was followed by a bridge party at the home of Mrs. Van Arnham.

Mr. Edward Seybel will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Brandon over the week-end.

Miss Jean Sarkany is entertaining the younger set at a birthday party this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Sackett expect as their guests this week-end Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Collins of Frankfort, Ky., and the Misses Juliette Martin and Mary Traylor of Richmond, Va.

Mrs. Charles Smith and son, Bobby, of Flushing, have been the guests of Mrs. Sterling Palm this past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Sackett witnessed a very exciting horse race last week while at Saratoga, when one of their horses won her maiden race. Hand Organ, whose sire and dam are Strolling Player and On Hand, is a two-year-old thoroughbred raised on the Sackett farm in Virginia. The odds were 4½-2 in a race with eight other horses.

The children's final party to be held Wednesday under the direction of Mrs. Sarkany, the last of weekly parties, is always looked forward to by the children and they really make the most of it. This week there will be several parties for them which at the present writing are in the category of rumors. However, in past years there have been several parties for them during this week. So it seems that Shoreham is a place in which to have a lot of fun for the young as well as their parents.

CHILDREN'S PROGRAM NEXT WEDNESDAY

The children's masquerade will be held next Wednesday evening at the Country Club. Mrs. Geysa Sarkany will have charge and has made plans for a fine program.

The children, the same as last year, will do their own entertaining with skits, dances and songs. This year, as an added attraction, they will come to the party costumed, to represent the skits which they will perform later in the evening. Prizes will be awarded to the costumes and for the skits which will be presented. This party will be one for the children, run by the children with the usual games in addition to the skits, and it is the hope of Mrs. Sarkany that they will prepare their program in advance because that part of the evening will be just what they themselves make it.

Last Wednesday night Mrs. W. D. Van Arnham was hostess at the children's party, assisted by her daughter, Cornelia-Jane, and her guest, Corinne Veale. Of the many games which were played Jean Sarkany won the "Going to Jerusalem" and Junior Sarkany won the mat dance. A lucky spot dance was won by Eddy Barnhart and Jean Sarkany, while Sue Miles and Jimmy Brandon won the bingo dance.

Gardener's Calendar for the Fourth Week in August

Planning next year's garden while the knowledge of what this year's garden lacks is still fresh in the mind will be the best way of getting maximum results for the time and money to be spent on this project. A part time garden, that is, one that is used and perhaps cultivated only a small part of the year, can be most enjoyed if it consists mainly of permanent planting. The following list will help to make that sort of planting. Probably only a few would have space to use all the plants mentioned as they are of all sizes and habits of growth, but a judicious selection from the list will make for a good effect in the summer. All the plants named have their blooming period in July and August. Nearly all of them have new hybrid varieties which are superior to the old-fashioned parent plant, so a careful study of horticultural magazines and catalogs from the best nurseries will yield a knowledge that will pay for the trouble in better and more unusual plants.

The common name is given for all plants except in places where no other than the botanical name has been given the species. The color of blossom is given in each case but space does not permit giving size of plant or growing habit.

Shrubs: Abelia, pink; Butterfly-bush, violet to red; Japanese Beauty Berry, pink; Sweet Shrub, brown; Sweet Pepper Bush, white; Rose of Sharon, varicolored; Dwarf Buckeye (Shrub Horse-Chestnut), white; Hydrangea, white, blue, pink; St. John's Wort, yellow; Globe Flower, orange; Bush Clover, purple; Shubby Cinquefoil, yellow; Smoke Bush, purplish; Golden Elder, white; Spirea Anthony Waterer, rose; Korean Bridal Wreath, white; Snowberry, pink; Coralberry, Vitex, lilac; Weigela, Eva Rathke, red.

HORTICULTURAL MEETING
There will be a regular meeting of the Horticultural committee round table of the Shoreham Garden Club next Tuesday morning, August 29th, at 11:00 o'clock at the Shoreham Country Club. Mrs. Rufus McGahen, chairman of the committee, has announced that at this meeting of the round table there will be a guest speaker. The speaker will be Mrs. William Hannah, who is a landscape architect and president-elect of the Suwasset Garden Club. The subject of Mrs. Hannah's discussion will be "Varieties of Bulbs and When to Plant Them".

TENNIS TOURNAMENTS
The tennis tournaments hit a snag here last week-end when the players were rained off the courts and both the singles and doubles play were at a standstill. The doubles play has not really gotten under way as it was scheduled to begin last week-end. The drawings have been made and the matches should come off this week-end. C. V. Pallister, Jr., who is in charge of the tournaments, says that he would like to see all the playoffs over as soon as possible so that the finals will be over before the tournament with Wading River Labor Day week-end.
